1. At the Deputies' Meeting this morning:

a. Bob Amory appealed to the Director to give him the more expensive flooring he wants in the library. I argued that the Director should not approve this request and Bob and I debated the problem briefly. The Director made no decision but said that he would talk to us about it sometime later.

H

b. The Director gave us a brief report on his meeting with President-elect Kennedy on Friday and advised us that President-elect Kennedy would plan to spend a full day in CIA sometime within the first two weeks of December.
